

I am here to comment and complain about the commercial on TV for the Hyatt hotels gold passport. The commercial is completely inappropriate and very sexual in nature. I understand I have the option of not watching television but there are also many good things TV portrays. The Hyatt commercial goes beyond boundaries that should be allowed by law in regards to television commercials. I sent a complaint to Hyatt Hotels and they responded by saying that they feel it is appropriate and they get great feedback. I would like to know if this is the right place to file a formal complaint or if I need to go elsewhere. Thank you for any information.
